DIAMOND NOTES

Jake Stahl still fears the Athletics.
Dunbert made his first home run of the season at Brooklyn Tuesday.
Connie Mack's Athletics stand just 96 points behind Boston, the league leaders.
The Giants lead the National League and the country as well in runs scored and stolen bases.
The Naps have robbed the hayfield of one John Lusk, who pitched near Meadville. He will now pitch back.

Ty Cobb's threefinger and the all around playing of the Georgia Peach were big factors in winning Thursday's game from the Highlanders for Detroit.

Every time the Red Sox win the Washington team also wins, and on the other hand, the Senators also lose when the Boston boys do likewise.

The Giants will raise the National League pennant on August 12 at the Polo grounds. The Cardinals will assist. The next day the Giants will go west again.

The pretty race in the International League is attracting the attention of the fans. Rochester, the league leader, has just 170 points on Montreal, the tail end club.

The Washington team leads Ben Johnson's league in stolen bases. The Senators have pilfered no less than 177 bases. The Red Sox are second, with 153 steals.

The Athletics lead the American League in team batting. Moeller made the greatest gain in percentage of any man in the league, moving up from .308 to .323.

Larry Gardner is still battling for .315, but with him Boston's share in the 200 or better home runs. Jake Stahl having dropped out of that group and now being marked at 296.

The Giants lead the National League in team batting, and have made the most hits in the league also. Their batting average is .316, while the second, St. Louis third and the Cubs fourth.

Next to Cobb, Moeller of Washington made the most hits last week, getting 18. Incidentally, Moeller made the greatest gain in percentage of any man in the league, moving up from .308 to .323.

Zimmerman remains the boss hitter of the National League to date, with Menor, the young Pittsburgh outfielder, who has been in only sixteen games, running along in second place. Doyle and Meyers of the Giants continue way up in the procession.

"I still believe we will heat the Athletics out for the pennant," says Captain Chance of the Cubs, "and I'll tell you why. The Cubs are playing the best ball in the league and from now until the end of the season we will increase our strength."

Ty Cobb of Detroit continues to hit 'em out at the terrific rate he began to travel at about three weeks ago. Last week he turned in 16 hits for a total of 20 bases, batting at a .470 clip for the seven days and running his average up from .425 to .429.

Indian Killed on Track.
Near Rochelle, Ill., an Indian went to sleep on a railroad track and was killed by the fast express. He paid for his carelessness with his life. Often it's that way when people neglect coughs and colds. Don't risk your life when prompt use of Dr. King's New Discovery will cure them or so prevent a dangerous throat or lung trouble. "It completely cured me a short time of a terrible cough that followed a severe attack of grip," writes J. R. Watts, Floydada, Tex., "and I regained 15 pounds in weight that I had lost." Quick, safe, reliable, and guaranteed. Price $1.00. Trial bottle free at Lee & Osgood Co.

Flying Men Fall
Victims to stomachic and kidney troubles just like other people, with like results in loss of appetite, backache, nervousness, headache and tired, listless, rundown feeling. But there's no need to feel like that, as T. D. Peebles, Henry, Penn., proved. "Six bottles of Electric Bilets," he writes, "did more to give me new strength and good appetite than all other stomachic remedies I used. So they help everybody. It's folly to suffer when this great remedy will help you from the first dose. Try it. Only 50 cents at Lee & Osgood Co."

When you want to cut four dollars before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertisement columns of The Bulletin.

OAKDALE WINNER OF PENN. STAKE

Baden Favorite, Takes Second Money—Matron Stake Won by Herman Wenger—Driver Welch Badly Injured in 2.07 Pace—All Races Closely Contested.

Pittsburgh, Aug. 7.—More hotly contested races, snappier work of the horses and bigger crowds characterized the third day of the Grand Circuit, but most here. The four heats of the 2.10 trot, the Pennsylvania stake, were hot races, with a field of eleven horses. Badger, driven by George Mace, after winning the first heat, was distanced. Baden, the horse that failed favorably, never won a heat, but ran second twice, a third and fourth and got second money. The start in all heats was greatly delayed by the bad behavior of Ethel Lynce, Carpenter being unable to keep her on her feet. Oakdale, the horse that won the race eventually, after running third throughout the first heat, was crowded back to seventh place in the rush for the wire. Baden, who was in the rack all the way round, coming up the rail in a pretty brush, was not soon enough to displace Wanderer.

In the second heat Oakdale got away in the lead and made a procession of it. Tommy Murphy, with Marcol, hugging close on the flank. The third heat to the three-quarter was a severe test for both sides. Oakdale, but the strong Oakdale pulled out, with Cheney and Marcol following in this order, and the rest of the field lapping none. Oakdale led at the fourth heat Baden took the lead at the start, but Oakdale took it from him before the eighth pole and held it to the finish. In the final heat Oakdale stepped the quarter in 22.

An accident in the 2.07 pace somewhat marred this race. O. W. Welch, Greatest Line in the first heat, was thrown from his seat at the eighth pole and was severely cut and bruised and had a shoulder dislocated. His horse continued the race without a driver, but was distanced. Braden Direct took the lead and ran easily, with Longworthy B. giving him a good race after taking the first heat. But direct and Braden were both out of the race. The Matron stake for pacers, foals of 1908, Herman Wenger took both heats easily, the others trailing. Both heats were closely contested. Wenger was procured. Herman Wenger stepped the quarter in the second heat in 2-1-2, the half in 1-07, and the three-quarters in 1-40 doing both heats in 2:13 1-4.

PLAYERS' UNION.
Sixteen Major League Clubs Represented in Meetings.
New York, Aug. 7.—David Puts, a local lawyer, who was formerly a star outfielder with the New York Highlanders and the Philadelphia Athletics, admitted that the rumors of a split toward forming a union of big league baseball players were true. Puts, who is leading in the organization, admitted that members of the National League clubs met in his office last Sunday and that American League players met secretly in New York two weeks earlier. All sixteen clubs of the major leagues were represented either by person or by proxy, he declared.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

SMALL MARKET CHANGES.
General Trend of Business in Wall Street Without Features.

New York, Aug. 7.—In its salient features today's stock market was virtually a repetition of the preceding days of the week. There was the usual irregular trend to higher prices, but the market was not without a few notable movements in most of the speculative issues, except the anthracite shares.

Developments of the day included the declaration of cash and stock dividend by the American Tobacco Company, an event that seemed to have been discounted in recent quotations for that stock. In any event the shares declined immediately after the action of the American directors was made known, and became increasingly weak later.

Steel was easily the principal feature, not only because of its activity, far outstripping United States Steel, but by reason of its strong tone, which later spread to other stocks. Buying of the coals seemed to have its basis in something more substantial than mere speculation. There was also some demand for Consolidated Gas, People's Gas and the electrical lines, with a new high record for Sears Roebuck and a further advance in Studebaker. Steel was heavy in early dealings, but recovered towards the close, and copper was under pressure with Smelting on weakness in metal stocks in London. The entire list developed a stronger tone in the final dealings.

London dealt very moderately in our stocks, which showed a mixture of gains and losses at the close. Weakness in Berlin was followed by a strong closing, while in Paris prices moved irregularly.

The local money market was easier on further foreign and domestic offerings, with limited demand. A better tone was shown by the more important bond issues. Total sales, par value, amounted to $170,000.

LANGFORD IN LINE FOR WORLD'S TITLE

Boston Tar Baby Has Best Claims to Championship When Jack Johnson Retires.

If Jack Johnson actually retires from the ring on Labor day and thereby gives up the world's heavyweight title, many big fellows, white and black, will claim the championship. At least one, Samuel Langford, Boston's Tar Baby, appears to have a right to proclaim himself Johnson's successor, and Langford will annex Lili' Thur's title as sure as the sun shines.

Langford again whipped Sam McVey in 20 rounds at Sydney, N. S. W. (Cable report says that McVey took a sound thrashing, fell, and was unable to get up.)

This was the fourth meeting between Langford and McVey. They fought a 20 round draw in Paris last year. In Australia later they clashed in what was supposed to be a 20 round affair in which Langford appeared to be the master, although Referee Snowy Baker decided in McVey's favor and nearly caused a riot. The third fight resulted in a clean cut victory for Langford, but McVey, it is said, put up a more stubborn resistance than on Saturday.

Langford's claim to the heavyweight crown was recognized in England three years ago when Johnson refused to live up to articles of agreement to box him at the National Sporting club. In fact the Lord Londale belt, emblem of the British championship, was offered to Langford, but he declined it with thanks, saying that he didn't care about winning a title, but he wanted to win a prize.

Langford and Jeannette have fought six times and the best the latter ever got was a draw in twelve rounds on two occasions. Langford, on the other hand, whipped Jeannette decisively in two fifteen round bouts and a twelve round affair, the latter a decision with it, while in the Garden.

Johnson steadfastly refused to fight Langford after their only scrap in Chelsea, Mass., more than six years ago. Johnson learned in that affair how Langford, then weighing but 155 pounds, could hit, and decided to give him a wide berth. It is a certainty right now that you could hear Johnson get into the ring with the Tar Baby for any money—yet even $300 for ten rounds. With Langford, therefore, the white champion's hopes will have their hands full. What would Langford do to Palmer? or Luchini? or Bombardier? The answer is left to your judgment.

FEW BATTERS WORRY PITCHER BOB GROOM

Clever Senator Twirls Shows up Best Against League's Best Hitters.

Robert Groom, one of Clark Griffith's pitchers, is considered the second best twirler of the staff at the present time. Walter Johnson alone excels. He is at his best when facing the American league's best and greatest hitters. There are about four of the league's best hitters who seldom cause Groom a bit of trouble.

Sam Crawford, the aged slugger of the Detroit Tigers, is Groom's principal victim. Crawford is disgusted from the start when he knows that Bob is on the mound for the Nationals against the Tigers, for Sam is very well aware that another day is going by without his doing anything.

Proofs are many of the marvelous power Groom holds over the head of the "Tiger" great swatter. Even last year, when the Nationals looked like a representation from an old soldiers' home, the long lead fooled and fooled with Crawford as if he were a veritable boob from the grass lands. This season it has been the same story, and no man on the field was so happy when Groom was banished from the mound in Detroit by the umpire than the pudgy gardener of the Tigers. He might get rid of his worst foe, and might hope for a single or two, although he got none.

Ty Cobb, the incomparable, is another of Groom's victims. Cobb is a terror to most pitchers, particularly to those who cannot field their positions or have little control. When going right, Groom's control is excellent and he knows what to do with a grounder sent his way, be it fast or slow. Oh yes, Ty gets hits now and then off Groom, but he counts them as lucky ones and makes no boasts about them. When a pitcher can go into a game reasonably certain of stopping two of his best hitting opponents, he chances for victory are more than good. Therefore, Bobby Groom does not shudder when called to face the Tigers, for he knows his ability to force both Cobb and Crawford, and they're about the whole Tiger team with the willow.

If you would see a bright diamond star look like a bush league boob in a single afternoon, take a look at Eddie Collins when forced to bat against the winding curves and pulsing spiral of Bob Groom. The little second baseman of the world's champion Athletics, Review, which will be held under the auspices of the Associated Yacht and Power Boat club of America.

MOTOR BOAT BREAKS SPEED RECORDS.
Hydroplane Able to Outspeed Train to Race at Chicago Water Show, Aug. 10-17.

The "fastest thing afloat" at present is believed to be the powerful 40-foot power boat, "Astoria," owned by James A. Pugh of Chicago. This speedcraft is easily capable of traveling the water at a rate of 35 miles an hour. However, there is a "dark horse" of the waterways which, its proud owner intimates, is able to whiz at 70 miles an hour. J. J. Ryan of Algonac, Mich., owner of the "Astoria," is the claimant of world's speeding honors on the water. The deciding tests between America's swiftest racing machines, including a squadron of 32 hydroplanes, will take place in Lake Michigan on the shores of Chicago from Aug. 10 to 17, during the great Water Carnival, known as the Review, which will be held under the auspices of the Associated Yacht and Power Boat club of America.

YOUR BABY'S HEALTH DEPENDS ON ITS NOURISHMENT

In nature's original plan, infants were nourished by mother's milk, but in our modern civilization this is often neither possible nor even advisable.

Failing the natural food, one instinctively turns to cow's milk, but this cannot always be used, as owing to its variable quality and the heavy indigestible curd, the delicate stomach of a young baby cannot always digest the nutriment which it undoubtedly contains. In such cases meets every requirement. It contains six times the nutrition of ordinary milk, but the curd being broken up by digestive agents in the malt every particle of nutriment is easily absorbed by the very young.

BORDEN'S Malted Milk
